FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Welcome Back!

Summer is over and we've already been back in school for over a week! It's amazing how time flies. I love "back to school" time. The building is again filled with the smiles and laughter from children; the recitation of the alphabet and learning of multiplication facts. One of my favorite things is seeing how much the children grow and change over the summer. They all look so much more grown up!

The kids are always surprised when I tell them that the Principal doesn't really get the whole summer off. They can't imagine what it's like for me to be in the building all alone - but I get a lot of paperwork done with no one in the building! I also spent a lot of my time this summer learning and growing - both professionally and spiritually.

Our theme verse for the year is 1 Corinthians 15:57-58. In verse 58, Paul tells us to "stand firm", "let nothing move you", and "know that your labor in the Lord is not in vain".

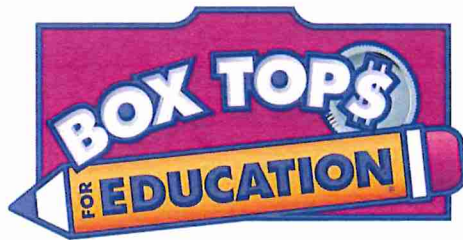

This reminds me that what I do - and you do, as parents - is not inconsequential. It will serve His purpose for our children's lives. We have the privilege of sharing Jesus with these kids every day - and that serves an eternal purpose!

I pray for God's Blessings to you all, as we begin another school year together. If there is anything in your lives I can pray for, please let me know. ~Mrs. Perez
